Enzymatica signs distribution agreement with Endeavour Consumer Health

Enzymatica has partnered with Endeavour Consumer Health, a division of Symbion which is a member of EBOS Group. The agreement grants Endeavour Consumer Health exclusive rights to sell, market and distribute ColdZyme® in Australia and New Zealand. It is Enzymatica's first agreement outside the European Union (EU) and a breakthrough in the company's strategic initiative to further establish ColdZyme in the international market.

The agreement covers the products ColdZyme 20ml and ColdZyme OneCold 7ml.

The regulatory requirements for medical devices in Australia differ from those in the EU, meaning ColdZyme will be registered in a higher class of medical devices. The registration process is expected to take 12-18 months and the launch is planned for 2018, ready for the cold & flu season in Australia.

"The agreement with Endeavour Consumer Health is an important breakthrough in our strategic international expansion outside Europe, and Endeavour Consumer Health is the perfect partner for us. They are well established and have significant experience launching new products to the market, which will favour the introduction of ColdZyme in Australia and New Zealand", said Fredrik Lindberg, CEO of Enzymatica.

EBOS Group's General Manager – Retail Services, Andrew Vidler, said ColdZyme would complement Endeavour Consumer Health's existing product offering.

"We are very excited about the agreement with Enzymatica to sell ColdZyme in Australia. ColdZyme is different to traditional cold therapies and fits well into our business model to grow our business in the over the counter (OTC) health products market with innovative new products."
